

Marywood University/Dietetic Internship
Clinical Case Study
Presentation Evaluation Form

Intern Name: Alicia Blare Date: 1/13/22

Description of Case: Diabetic Ketoacidosis

Please evaluate each statement by checking the box.

		Exceptional	Complete	Inadequate
1.	Ability to describe patient profile and background information: • Personal data • Reason for admission • Psycho/social/economic information • Medical history • Family history • Health history	X
2.	Skill at developing background of disease: • Definition • Pathophysiology with emphasis on nutritional implications • Symptoms/clinical manifestations • Etiology • Treatment • Nutritional intervention • Prognosis • Application to patient	X
3.	Ability to describe factors surrounding current admission: • Diagnosis • Diagnostic tests, procedures with interpretations • Treatments • Medications, OTCs, supplements	X

		Exceptional	Complete	Inadequate
4.	Application of the Nutrition Care Process: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Appropriate nutrition assessment</li> <li>• Diet order</li> <li>• Anthropometrics</li> <li>• Biochemical data</li> <li>• Diet history</li> <li>• Food/shopping/cooking habits</li> <li>• Previous MNT, instruction, outcome, compliance</li> <li>• Evaluation of intake, current and PTA</li> <li>• Assessment, level of risk</li> <li>• Macronutrient needs</li> <li>• Determination of Nutrition Diagnosis, including development of PES Statements.</li> <li>• Development of Nutrition Intervention/Care Plan</li> <li>• Monitoring and follow up to measure patient's response</li> </ul>	X
5.	Skill at focusing presentation on nutritional factors.	X
6.	Ability to summarize and review key points	X
7.	Overall organization of presentation	X
8.	Professional content level	X

Additional Comments:

Reviewer Signature: 